

Erratum to Correct Informed Patient Consent Statement

Gatr-Alnada Gheriani, Rebecca Tuetken and Petar Lenert

Department of Internal Medicine, Carver College of Medicine, The University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA, USA

This corrects the article: "Gheriani GA, Tuetken R and Lenert P. Lane–Hamilton Syndrome: A Vasculitis Mimic Presenting with Diffuse Alveolar Haemorrhage and Positive ANCA Testing. touchREVIEWS in RMD. 2024;3(1):37–42"

The patient consent statement was added incorrectly due to an editorial error. The correct patient informed consent statement, provided by the authors, is included below.

"Written informed consent was obtained from the patient for participation in and publication of this study. Ethics approval was not required as case reports are not subject to the author's institutional review board approval (University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics institutional review board approval). This study was performed in accordance with the Helsinki Declaration of 1964, and its later amendments."

Access: This article is freely accessible at touchIMMUNOLOGY.com © Touch Medical Media 2024.

Published Online: 9 February 2024

Citation: touchREVIEWS in RMD. 2024;3(1):43